New Mobile Tool From Harvey Nash Instantly Communicates Info on Job Openings to Contractors and Candidates.

Parsippany, New Jersey (June 16, 2005) – Missed opportunities can be a thing of the past for Harvey Nash contractors and candidates. After a successful launch in the UK, the Harvey Nash Mobile Channel is now being introduced to the U.S. market to help fuel Harvey Nash's continued U.S. expansion. Harvey Nash Group Plc (www.harveynash.com) is a global professional recruitment and search solutions firm.

The Mobile Jobs Channel is a free subscription service that instantly sends the latest online job postings directly to the job seekers' mobile devices. Postings are downloaded from Harvey Nash locations nationwide, eliminating the need to go online to see and apply for jobs.

"In addition to the benefits to our contractors and candidates, the Mobile Channel also provides our business customers with what they value most from recruiting firms – flexibility and faster access to talent," states Harvey Nash President of U.S. Operations, Robert J. Miano. "Since we know of no other company offering this service, we believe our Mobile Channel will attract considerable attention and help solidify our presence in this market."
